Annual report of the village library

The library opened its new reading room in early spring, after a long winter of building work. Volunteers painted the shelves, mended the old chairs and carried every crate of books up the narrow stairs by hand. On the first evening more than sixty readers came to see the room, and many of them stayed until the lights were turned off at nine o'clock.

Borrowing rules have not changed. Each reader may take home four books at a time for three weeks, and the loan can be renewed once at the desk or by telephone. Children's books are kept on the low shelves near the window, where the light is best in the afternoon.

Thanks are due to the parish council and to all who gave their time.
