

Welcome to Recto.

Recto reads, marks up, signs and arranges PDFs right in your browser, and nothing you open here leaves this device. This sample is an ordinary PDF, so whatever you try on it works the same on your own files. Select this sentence and choose Highlight.

- 1 Press M or tap Markup to write in the margin.
- 2 Right-click or long-press a page for more.
- 3 To change the words themselves, select them and choose Edit text.

NOTES

Fill in a form

Click a field and type. The fields belong to the PDF, so what you enter is saved in the file and shows in any PDF reader.

Guest book
Leave your name, then sign.

NAME

DATE

☐ I tried Recto.

SIGNATURE

×

Sign here with Fill & sign.

Ada Lindqvist

4 Linden Row, Northam

6 October 2026

Dear reader,

This page is a picture: a scan of a short letter, with no text behind it. You cannot select or search these words yet.

Recognize text makes it searchable. It reads the words in the image and adds an invisible text layer, so you can select, search and copy them. Like everything in Recto, it runs on this device.

Kind regards,

Ada Lindqvist

Arrange pages

Press 3 or pinch to see every page. Drag a thumbnail to move it.

Kept, then saved

Your changes are kept on this device. Save writes them into the file.

Save a copy writes a new file and leaves this one as it is.

That is the whole tour. Open your own PDFs whenever you are ready.